MEN WHO HELPED
WEST'S WINNINGWHITE CALFEE AND KIT ETHER-INGTON LIKE HAWAII AND PRO-MISE TO RETURN.White Calfee and Kit Etherington, the veteran plainsmen and Indian fighters, who have been spending a vacation in Hawaii, returned to the mainland by the S. S. Alameda, leaving this morning.The couple are hale and hearty men of somewhere around seventy. Their life has been a strenuous one, but today their eyes are as clear and their step as firm as they were fifty years ago.Calfee and Etherington knew the western prairies when the Indian roamed them at will and when the buffalo herds were like thunder. For years they slept under the stars, scouting, riding pony express and generally assisting in the winning of the West.Today White Calfee runs a hotel at Bozeman, Montana, and his friend Kit Etherington is in the stock-raising business near the same place.A newspaperman asked White Calfee at the boat this morning whether his name was not an adoption of the name "White Calf," given him in the wild days of the Indian Territory.The scribe was assured that this was not the case but that Calfee is a French name, his forefathers having been children of Gaul.White Calfee is a pleasant man to speak to, a man of little speech but very affable. His eyes are what attract. They are what are known as "bad eyes." The smile may be on the weather-beaten old face but the eyes are like flint and glint, in argument, as relentlessly as the sun on a polished stone. Undoubtedly White Calfee has been a hard man in his day.The two men take away with them golden opinions of Hawaii. They promise to return for another visit next year and expect to bring along a party of old cronies of the camp-fire and the trail, to see the land where the sun is shining all the year round and where "there ain't no snow.""It's funny you asked about my name, mister," said White Calfee to the newspaperman. "Why only the other day a fellow asked me if I was the new Bulletin reporter. As if?"win favor at his hands with the Ho-lulu audience.
